Butterflies Check Traffic in East Part of County

Butterflies in the vicinity of Byron are so thick they present obstacles to the motorists, according to Dr. C. R. Blake, the county health officer.

Making a trap from Byron to Brentwood while on an inspection visit yesterday, Dr. Blake collected more than 40 of the bright yellow and green winged insects on his radiator.

Hundreds of butterflies are killed by each car passing along the roads of the district, the doctor says. Most of them fall off, but enough remain on the radiators to give them a unique and picturesque ornamentation.

Sequel in Demand For Damages

Suit has been filed in the superior court at Stockton by Mrs. S. C. Alexander, part proprietor of the Speedy and Spuds Radio Lunch counter on Macdonald avenue for $10,000 damages as the result of an automobile smashup. H. A. Fulmer of Pittsburg is named defendant.

The wreck occurred February 6, on the Borden highway, at Stockton. According to Mrs. Alexander's story, Fulmer cut in directly in front of her car to avoid a head-on collision. In so doing he collided with her car and wrecked it completely and "badly damaged" the driver.

Her complaint is based on a broken nose, gashed face, eight weeks in the hospital, a demolished car and a list of lesser injuries.

So declared Sir George Newman, chief medical officer of the ministry of health in an address here before the Royal Institute Congress.

REVISION WOULD LOWER RATE

Measure Believed to Offer Better
Appeal to Industrial Plants

Action vital to the welfare and future growth of Richmond was taken by the Contra Costa Realtors Association, at their monthly meeting held last evening when a resolution was adopted favoring having a scientific revaluation of the property of the city made.

The resolution will be sent to the city council, and that body will be asked to take favorable action, and provide the funds by which a corps of experts can be employed to do the work.

There was considerable discussion on the resolution and it was to the effect many inequalities existed in the assessment of the property of Richmond and these should be corrected.

Members present also stated it was their belief that a revaluation of the property would mean a doubling of the assessable value of the property of the City of Richmond.

In some instances, it was stated there would be reductions made and in other cases raises would be taken place. Such a change, members said, would result in the tax rate of the city being cut in half, which would be a great incentive to industries to come to this city.

The Realtors also went on record as favoring support of the Richmond-San Francisco ferry in every way possible.

President A. L. Paulsen presided.

DEATH TOLL IS 33 AND 3 MISSING IN SHIP BLAST

EVERY HOUR SWELLS LISTS

Passengers Were Dancing When Burst of Steam Struck
The Decks

(By Universal Service)

NEWPORT (R. I.), Aug. 19.—Every hour today swelled the list of those who died as the result of a boiler explosion last night on the excursion steamship Mackinack.

At a late hour today the number of known dead was thirty-three. Eight others are so severely scalded that they are expected to die. Three persons are reported missing.

About a hundred persons are in the hospitals here. Many are badly scalded, some are believed to be permanently blinded and almost all moaned bitterly as they suffered during the long hours.

There were 657 persons on board when the blast came. Most of them were mill workers from Pawtucket, R. I., who had been on a day's outing. The ship, an old freighter, recently converted into an excursion boat, had only left Newport fifteen minutes before the disaster.

Two investigations to learn the cause of the blast, and to fix the responsibility were launched today. One is being conducted by the Federal government and the other by the State.

Many of the passengers were dancing to the music of a jazz orchestra when the explosion came. They heard the explosion and before they could collect their senses they were thrown into a panic by the boiling water and steam that washed across the decks. Men, women and children rushed to the rail and several leaped overboard.

Passengers nearest the engine room were the worst sufferers.

Captain McVay today told his story of the disaster. He said: "I was in the pilot house when I felt a shock followed by the hissing of steam. Immediately the ship became enveloped in a mist of hot steam, which blocked the view from all sides. A moment later the engines stopped. I swung the rudder of the boat. Its own momentum reached it a few minutes later."

The explosion aboard the Mackinack was the second marine disaster affecting vessels under the command of Captain McVay. In 1907 he commanded the steamship Larchmont which was run down off Block Island by the schooner Harry Knowlton. The Larchmont sank with the loss of 150 lives.

Bursting of a large pipe in the bottom of the former Great Lakes freighter caused the disaster, according to officials of the Blackstone Transportation Company, owners of the Mackinack.

The excursion steamer, built in Wisconsin in 1909 is reported to have suffered from boiler trouble all summer and her last trip was delayed 45 minutes while a patch was welded on the boiler.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Tears were the order of the day at the Dorothy Ellingson murder trial today. Women jurors wept openly while male members of the jury that will decide the fate of the 17-year-old confessed matricide, also drew their handkerchiefs during the closing arguments presented by Walter McGovern, chief counsel for the defense.

"We are saying the last word for this unfortunate defendant," he said. "None of us deny the atrocity of the act, the killing of a mother by her own daughter. We have attempted to cover nothing, we have turned the light into all the dark corners of this most sordid affair."

There is a nation-wide interest in this case. The administration of justice will be watched and scrutinized most carefully. But you are deciding the eternal fate of a fellow creature, and we ask you to do it in the spirit of humanity.

Dorothy Ellingson is of a lowly station in life, a child in years, not yet 17 when the act was committed. In this courtroom she has sat alone; no hands have been stretched across the table to help her, no friendly pats or handclaps of encouragement after court, as many defendants receive. Even the mother who bore her killed by her own hand perhaps, lies in her grave.

Her musical friends, who flocked to dance with her in drunken revelry across the boards of pleasure, fled like rats in the light of an open door at her arrest. Not one of them is here now to wish her God-speed.

PRISONERS HAVE LIBERTY DURING HOT THREE HOURS

Six San Quentin Desperadoes In Daring Break Captured
On Shore

POLICE WORK WITH DISPATCH

Two Guards Wounded and Doubt
For Their Recovery Is Expressed

BULLETIN

B. M. Miller, San Quentin guard, whose skull was crushed by the six prisoners, who made the sensational break from the state penitentiary, died at 12:05 this morning at the Cottage hospital.

It is expected that the six prisoners, now in solitary confinement at San Quentin, will be charged with murder.

In one of the most spectacular and daring prison breaks in the history of San Quentin prison, six convicts made their escape yesterday afternoon from the penal institution across the bay but in a little less than three hours, they were captured and were back in prison in solitary confinement.

The men were captured at Richmond, near what is known as the old shrimp camp, in a sensational roundup in which Chief of Police Dan Cox, Captain B. V. Shirley, Sergeant C. S. Mahake and the other members of the Richmond force took an active part.

ALARM IS SPREAD

No sooner was the escape effected from the prison than the alarm was sounded by telephoning to all the cities about the bay. The first men on the scene were the members of the Richmond police, and later they were augmented by 16 officers from the Oakland department, and also several officers from the Berkeley department.

PARADED TO FERRY

As soon as the convicts were captured they were handcuffed together, walked to the Richmond-San Rafael ferry, and immediately taken back to San Quentin.

TWO GUARDS KAYOED.

In the escape from the prison two guards, B. M. Grayson and B. M. Miller were slugged with bricks and rendered unconscious. Both of the men suffered fractures of the skull and other injuries and it is doubtful if they will recover.

LOCKED IN WAREHOUSE.

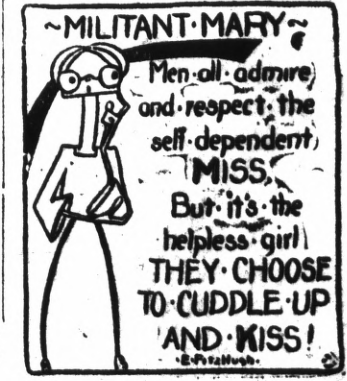

Grayson was found locked in a warehouse at the prison, and immediately taken to the prison hospital, while the convicts threw Miller in the launch in which they made their escape, and he was brought to this side.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS.

Miller was found in the boat unconscious, and taken to the Cottage hospital, where Dr. W. S. Lucas was called. His condition is very grave, and not much hope is held out for his recovery. Grayson has been a guard at the prison for the past twelve years. Miller's service is much shorter, but both were trusted men.

Does Your Back Ache?

Is that dull, constant backache making you old and miserable? Does your back throb and ache until it seems you just can't keep going? Do you suffer headaches, dizzy spells and urinary disorders; feel weak, tired and worn-out? Then look to your kidneys. Delay may mean serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's are recommended by Richmond folks.

Z. A. Bethards, stationary fireman, 223 S. Eighth avenue, Richmond, says: "My kidneys got out of order and my back ached constantly. I couldn't rest at night and mornings I was so lame I couldn't bend over. It was all I could do to keep at my work. Dizzy spells came over me and I had headaches, too. My kidneys didn't act regularly. Doan's Pills soon rid me of the aches and put me on my feet."

Mr. Bethards is only one of many Richmond people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Bethards had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all dealers. ## Barbara Fritchie Council Holds Festivities

Barbara Fritchie Council, Daughters of America, celebrated its third birthday at a party given in Woodmen's hall last night. A banquet, program, and talks were the order of the evening. One hundred members were in attendance, including 40 visitors from Oakland and San Francisco.

The program consisted of two recitations by Zoe Hollenbaugh; solo by Henrietta Michael; solo by C. F. Donnelly; recitation by Leta Hathaway; and a talk by George Black. Mrs. Leta Hathaway was chairman of the program committee.

Black was the speaker of the evening. He told of the order, from its early beginning until the present time, pointing out the work it has done and intends to do.

The banquet was most elaborate. The tables were fittingly decorated and centered with a monstrous birthday cake. In charge of the dinner was a committee headed by Mrs. Julia Woods.

The local lodge presented Mrs. May Wallen, past councillor, with a pin. Martha Washington lodge of Oakland gave Barbara Fritchie lodge a beautiful fern.

A short business meeting was held immediately before the entertainment, it was presided over by Mrs. Mary Bonham, councillor.

W. F. Wilson, superintendent of the California Wine Association, who has been spending the past two weeks at Livermore, returned yesterday with two bucks secured on the reserve of the Richmond Gun club.

Antonette and Robert Selzer, children of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Selzer of 2800 Esmond avenue, are about again after undergoing operations for the removal of their tonsils.

Management Of Richmond Keys Changes Hands

Complete re-organization has been effected in the Richmond Keys. Tex. Brown has become disgusted with the work of the team, and the team has become disgusted with the work of Tex Brown. So Tex isn't there any more.

In his place has been appointed A. Purman as manager. Don O'Loan is now looking agent for the club.

After the Keys get through with the Firemen on Friday morning at First street they expect to have just nicely started. On Sunday they will go to San Leandro to tangle with the strong club from that city.

A new heavier has been imported from the Eastern division barns, and will occupy the mound in both games. Don O'Loan will continue to catch. Otherwise the lineup is pretty well shifted around but most of the old players will remain in the lineups.

You can depend on our advertisers—patronize them.

FOOTBALL NOW UNDER WAY AT ROOSEVELT HIGH

Pigskin artists of Roosevelt Junior High school turned out for the first time last night to have a little preliminary practice before going ahead with the stiff schedule outlined for the season.

George Miner, coach, looked the outgoing athletes over with a practiced eye and stated that he had a pretty likely looking crew. A light, fast backfield will be used, while the line will be fairly heavy, and yet have plenty of speed.

A tough schedule has been arranged. The Petaluma Junior High is the only junior high school the locals will tackle. All other teams will be the 130 pound eleven of high schools about the bay.

Following is a list of the prospective players for the year who turn-

Six Runners Brought Home By Refinery Manager's Bat

BUTTISBACH LABORING UNDER AN OFF DAY UNABLE TO HOLD BACK SLUGGING REFINERIANS AFTER DISASTEROUS START IN FIRST STANZA OF GAME

STANDARD OIL LEAGUE. But defeat was charged to him. But defeat was charged to him. But defeat was charged to him.

The "Grand Old Man" came up in the first inning with two on. He first sent a foul over right field fence. The next ball pitched he repeated. But this time it wasn't a foul and his two playmates romped home.

Chick couldn't let anything like that get by so in the same inning he smacked another homer. There were also two men on at this time. Chick indirectly made six runs of the Refinery's ten, while Friene made the only two of the All Standards.

Dimock shines. To Hal Dimock, smiling pitcher, also goes lots of the credit for the victory. He pitched a fine game. He allowed seven hits, but all of them were scattered and with the exception of Friene's homer none of them did any damage.

Buttisbach had an off day to say the least. He gave Chattanooga three walks, and two to Snively. The Refinery got 9 safe clouts off him. Zimmerman cracked.

Zimmerman proved to be a streak around second base and on the paths. Some of the sap was knocked out of him in the sixth inning, however, when he was hit in the back by a pitched ball. Zimmie laid down and took a rest for a few minutes thereafter.

Friene appeared on the mound for the first time in history. He was only there for a few minutes and de-raised cane while there. He hit Zimmie, walked two men, fanned nobody and one run was made off

HANS WAGNER AFTER CROOKS

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 19.—John Honus (Hans) Wagner, famous short-stop of the Pittsburgh Pirates in years gone by, has entered a new game that of politics. His name today was before the voters of Allegheny County (Pittsburg) as a candidate for sheriff on the Republican and Labor tickets.

Wagner's entrance into the political arena was a ninth-inning affair his nominating petitions being presented to the county commissioners yesterday, the last day for filing such petitions for the September primaries.

Since his retirement from baseball, Wagner has conducted a sporting goods store here.

Prisoners Have Liberty During Hot Three Hours

on the rocks near the shrimp camp an attempt will be made to float it at high tide.

TOOK HIS CLOTHES

During the voyage across the bay the convicts relieved Fagerstrom of his clothes and shoes, and he could not come ashore until the Richmond police furnished him with some wearing apparel.

THOSE WHO MADE BREAK

The six men who made their escape were:

MIKE MATULIA
H. BENZ
JOSEPH SUMMERS
PAUL LUCE
B. WRIGHT
ROBERT SCOTT

The sixth convict when asked his name said he did not have any and it was impossible to secure the name from the prison authorities last evening.

HOW IT HAPPENED

Captain Fagerstrom in his tug with a barge of brick landed at the prison wharf yesterday morning and the prisoners were put to work unloading the cargo.

WORKING AT DOCK

Guards Grayson and Miller were put in charge, and the work proceeded without interruption until about 2 o'clock. Fagerstrom was sitting in his boat to return with the barge to the brick works.

STRIKE SUDDENLY

Suddenly without a moment's warning Grayson was struck over the head with a brick by one of the convicts, and Miller was given a similar blow. While Grayson was carried to a warehouse and locked up, Miller was thrown into the launch, the convicts boarded it, and Fagerstrom was ordered to proceed, under threat of his life.

GUARD SAW FIGHT

A guard near by noticed the commotion, investigated and immediately sounded the alarm. At the same time he took a shot at one of the convicts, wounding him in the arm, but this did not prevent him from getting on the boat.

SEND CALL HERE

The Richmond police were immediately notified, and immediately Chief Cox, Captain Shirley and Sergeant Livingston went to the water front to keep a lookout. In a short time they were augmented by the other members of the Richmond police department.

TURNED THIS WAY

The launch, containing the convicts headed for California city. Captain Elmer Hobbs and Captain P. Treack, secretary of the warden in a high powered automobile struck out to head them off. When the convicts noticed the red machine of the prison near the shore they headed off and struck out for the Contra Costa shore.

CHASE ON WATER

Hobbs and Treack seized a small fishing launch and followed them, firing at them as they went along.

HEADED FOR SLIP

The convicts' launch was about to land at the ferry slip of the Richmond San Rafael ferry, but the whistle of the incoming boat forced them to turn around and they headed north. An attempt was then made to land a short distance above the ferry slip, but they saw the Richmond police awaiting them.

TURNED AGAIN

Captain Fagerstrom was then forced to go farther north and when the shrimp camp was reached, he was made to land. The convicts scrambled ashore and made for the hills.

"KILL ME" YELLS CONVICT

The round up commenced and Captain Shirley had a big battle with one of the men who refused to surrender. The convict said "Kill me, I would rather be killed, than taken back to that hell hole."

SHIRLEY CHOOSES FIGHT

Shirley then saw it was either a matter of killing the convict or engaging in a hand to hand battle and he chose the latter. There was a

SCIENTISTS GET BOOT FROM MONGOLS

Americans Accused of Violating Agreement and Ordered To Leave

PEKING, China, Aug. 19.—Orders to leave Mongolia have been issued by the Mongol government to the third Asiatic expedition of the American Museum of Natural History, it was definitely learned today.

The expedition is under the leadership of Roy Chapman Andrews. The Mongolian government alleges that Chapman has violated the terms of his agreement with the Mongolian scientific organization.

The Mongolian government further alleges that besides carrying out his scientific work in the domains of paleontology, geology and zoology, Andrews' expedition also has engaged in topographical observations and has employed a number of suspicious—in a military sense—persons.

Andrews also is accused of carrying on political propaganda and stirring up the Mongolians against the red bolsheviks.

MACMILLAN TO ABANDON DASH TO NORTH POLE

Unfavorable Weather Conditions Make Use of Airplanes Impossible

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The Macmillan Arctic expedition has abandoned hope of carrying out its full exploration program over the Polar sea this year.

Curtailment of the expedition's activities was forced by adverse weather which has locked the northland in ice and fog well ahead of the usual winter season.

Macmillan and his explorers will proceed, however, to carry out other objects to the expedition, including scientific investigations from the present base at Etah.

The change in plans was announced today by the National Geographic society after it had been advised by Macmillan that the project of establishing an advanced base on Cape Hubbard and flying from there over the frozen northern sea was not feasible because of this year's unusual weather conditions.

The veteran explorer advised society officials that in view of all the circumstances to go ahead with the original plan would be to attempt the "impossible."

lively time for a while, and it was a question which would come out on top, but finally Shirley got hold of his gun and clubbed the convict over the head, and slapped on the hand-cuffs.

in the mean time Chief Cox and his men had got the other escapes. Patrolman Bulkley of Oakland also got one man.

All of the six convicts were handcuffed together and marched to the boat, when they were returned to the prison.

Dr Lucas in speaking of Guard Miller stated he had suffered a fracture of the skull and numerous cuts and abrasions on the leg.

New Swedish Power Idea Uses Turbine For Motors

UNIVERSAL SERVICE

TROLLHAETTAN, Sweden, Aug. 17.—A Swedish invention that may modify railroad traffic everywhere has just had a successful try-out here. It concerns the problem, much discussed among mechanical engineers everywhere, of how to transmit smoothly the power from an internal combustion engine, either a Diesel motor or an ordinary gasoline engine, to the drive wheels of a railroad motor car.

In ordinary automobiles this is now done by means of shifts in gear, but in heavy railroad trucks the strain on the mechanical parts has shown itself to be too great, so that the usual way has been to transmit the power through an electric current, generated by the motor.

The new device, on the contrary, is hydraulic and has been described by its inventor, Antenor Nydqvist, Director of the Nydqvist & Holm locomotive works here as the creation of an artificial waterfall within the motor car itself. In other words, the gasoline or crude oil motor first drives a centrifugal pump which in turn plays a stream of water on the blades of a special kind of turbine shaft, very much as a natural waterfall would do. This turbine shaft is then geared to the axle of the drive wheels. By regulating the speed of the motor, the "height" of the waterfall is changed at the will of the engineer and thus smoothness of operation is obtained and "jerks" eliminated.

The preliminary experiments were made here on a small hand car, but now a regular size self-propelling railroad coach has been built and a number of experimental trips made with perfect success on the line between Vanersborg and Hovrjunga. Only one man is required to operate the mechanism of the car and a speed of fifty miles an hour was attained on the first trip. The motor used has only 180 horsepower, but the principle applies equally well to motors of any strength and Mr. Nydqvist is of the opinion that a 2000 power motor does not require any larger turbine wheel.

The hydraulic transmission of power eliminates practically all moveable parts and the wear on those remaining is small. There is no shifting of gear and at all speeds the cars run smoothly. When once passed through the turbine, the water is sent back to the pump, so that the same liquid is used over and over again. In winter a mixture of glycerine will be used to avoid freezing. A Diesel locomotive with a new style of transmission has already been ordered by one Swedish railway company and four passenger motor cars by another.

STATE EXPENSES $10,000,000 HIGHER

Controller Riley Gives Figures For California Costs Of Biennium

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 19.—In an analysis of governmental expenditures made public today, State Controller Ray L. Riley announced that the cost of operating the state for the year ending June 30, 1925, was $137,580,970.79, the second year of the biennium showing an increase of $10,000,000 over the first.

State government costs are increasing at the rate of $10,000,000 per year, Riley pointed out.

Controller Riley's statement, in part, follows:

"The cost of the state government of California for the seventy-sixth fiscal year, ending June 30, 1925, was $73,796,620.91, according to figures taken from the general fund control ledger. This figure is compared with $63,784,350.87, which was the cost of government for the seventy-fifth fiscal year, ending June 30, 1924, making an increase of $10,012,270.04.

What to Expect of Electricity; Tips About Home Appliances

An Ironer Will Save More Time Than Any Other Electrical Appliance

By MILDRED NICHOLS
In Charge Electrical Housekeeping Department, Western Electric Co.

When you are contemplating buying any electrical appliance you are not interested in generalities—you want to know just how and why it will be an asset for you.

To get the very most out of your Clothes Washer with the least annoyance check these points: Never fill the washer by jugging pails of water; a length of common garden hose attached to the faucet will do the trick. Always make some arrangement for easy draining. Permanent attachment to the drain—a length of hose running to a floor drain, an ejector, or even a small washer pump with an electric motor. The latter adds a bit to the cost of the Washer, but it's well worth the price. And just remember to have the two control levers at an "off" position before turning on the current. This eliminates the chance of blowing a fuse, especially if you have to attach the cord to a light socket. A two-way plug is almost a necessity where there is only one socket. This enables you to have light and power at the same time.

The Electric Ironer is practically uncharted ground. Most of us know there is such a thing, but we dismiss it with a "Oh, yes, I know, a mangle for flat pieces and large families." No such thing. The ironer is a small ironer useful for a family of two as well as a Rooseveltian family. It's designed to iron everything a larger ironer can.

iron. And because of its small size, more reasonable in price and more adaptable to small homes.

An ironer will save more time than any other electrical appliance. The electrically-driven gas-heated ironer is within the means of the average family and the operating costs are negligible. You can iron practically everything on it. It's absurd to ignore an ironer simply because it won't do the most intricate pieces. Check up on your own wash and see what per cent is really in the intricate class. When you see a tablecloth that takes from twenty to twenty-five minutes to iron by hand come through an ironer perfectly ironed in five minutes, you'll be convinced that you're overlooking an exceptional labor-saver.

Not much need be said about the Electric Hand Iron. Practically every family has one. It's a recognized necessity. The convenience of steady, constant heat when and where you need it, the saving of steps, and the joy of being able to iron where it's cool have overbalanced the question of "How much current does it take?" It's a good idea to have two electric irons, one upstairs and one down. Ask the user of the iron in your home how she disconnects it. The proper way is to connect or disconnect at the iron rather than at the socket. Again, you minimize the chance of blowing a fuse. Another thing, if your iron becomes discolored from overheating, try cleaning it while the iron is hot, as hot as you can handle it.

SAN PABLO DAM COST PROHIBITIVE

Business of Nation Is Recovering From 1920 Price Break

SOFT MUD DEPTH TOO GREAT TO MAKE GOOD DAM SITE

Reclamation Service Engineer
Gives Conclusions of Survey

TEST BORINGS COST $50,000

Silt Deposits Extended to Depth
Of 260 Feet, Young Discovers

An almost prohibitive cost in construction may result in the proposed San Pablo salt water dam project being abandoned.

This was indicated in a report issued yesterday in San Francisco and based on the survey made by Walker Young, engineer of the Reclamation Service, who has expended $50,000 in making tests of the various sites for the proposed barrier.

The report showed that mud, silt and other soft material to a depth of 260 feet was encountered in the bottom of San Pablo Bay in test borings. The tests at each of the sites are said to have been discouraging to the proponents of the dam project.

The three proposed dam sites explored are as follows:

1. San Pablo Point site, between San Pablo Point North of Richmond and Point San Quentin in Marin County. This line marks the division between San Francisco Bay and San Pablo Bay.

2. Dillon Point which juts from Contra Costa County into the bay between upper San Pablo Bay and Carquinez Straits.

3. Army Point, opposite the town of Benicia, which marks the lower end of Suisun Bay.

If a dam were built at any of these locations the entire bay depression above such a dam would become a fresh water lake.

Such a lake would solve the one menacing problem, that of the encroachment of salt water into the delta region, where it has begun serious work.

SOCIALIST CLAIMS ANSWERED

Why is the United States so different from any other country on earth?

Because the founders of this nation drew up a constitution and built a practical working form of government around the central idea of personal liberty for the individual unhampered by official red tape and bureaucratic control and regulation.

In spite of the prosperity in this nation, in spite of the advantages and opportunities offered the individual as compared to other nations, there is constant agitation to replace the time-tested and successful American policy which favors private initiative and enterprise with European forms of socialism which stand as rank failures in comparison with American progress.

In a recent debate, Morris Hillquist, national Socialist leader, attempted to show the advantage of public ownership over private ownership of industry. "The main tests of comparative merits of the two systems may be enumerated under following heads," said Mr. Hillquist. "One, cost of service; two, its quality; three, position of employees; four, effects on public life. On all of these tests public ownership proves itself superior." Such statements should not go unanswered.

As to cost of service: It is a generally accepted fact that where politics enters into the management of an industrial undertaking, cost of operation increases. But given the same management, the only saving a publicly operated property could make over a privately operated property would be through less interest it might have to pay by financing itself with tax-exempt public bonds. This would not be a real saving because the tax load which the public property would escape would not be eliminated but simply shifted to the shoulders of other taxpayers. With state and government regulation of public utility industries as it exists today, and equally good management for each, the cost of service from public or private plants would be the same if both were self-supporting.

As to the quality of service, Mr. Hillquist cannot point to another country in the world where the common everyday citizen has such service from electric light, telephone, street railway, gas and railroad companies, as he does right here in the United States. Even royalty cannot have it as good in most European countries. When it comes to the position of employees, Mr. Hillquist's argument has not a leg to stand upon. Under the leveling effect of socialism, what chance has a public employee to better his condition by long and faithful work.

Politics would rule the top positions and offer little reward for a lifetime of service.

As to the effect on public life, resulting from public ownership of basic industries, it would paralyze initiative and ambition and remove the very spirit which the founders of this government wished to build up in the consciousness of the American people. What a race of dependents would be developed if all had to depend upon the government for a job. The paralyzing effect of socialism upon our public life is the greatest argument against it.

While Mr. Hillquist is endeavoring to turn private industry over to government ownership, private industry has been quietly turning itself over to the people. In other words, every large industry in the United States today is placing its securities in the hands of small stockholders, until millions of persons are now the actual owners of so-called Big Business which the Socialist would destroy. Every man, woman and child who has an interest in one of these American industries is interested in seeing it succeed. Success can only come to "their" property as it renders a good public service. Where the stockholders are also consumers, customers and employees, they are interested in both good service and fair profits.

How much greater incentive is there for an employee who is an owner than for an employee in a government industry who knows that no matter what he can own no share in that industry or its earnings, and that periodically the heads of the government institution will be changed by the political party in power.

Can Mr. Hillquist and his associates point to another nation of 110,000,000 persons occupying 3,700,000 square miles of territory and possessing wealth estimated at $300,000,000,000? Then why try to disrupt the American idea of liberty which offers encouragement to individual initiative?

Why should advocates of socialism with their record of failure in all parts of the world, come before the American people and ask that our American system of government, which has given the individual the greatest freedom, opportunity, advancement and wealth of any country on earth, be changed for a system which lowers the individual to a common level and makes him merely a pawn in the game of government?

SEND YOURSELF TO BED

IF one of your children is cross and irritable and ready to cry at a moment's notice and no provocation, what do you do to him?

Why, send him to bed, probably, and let him rest until he feels better.

Do the same thing to yourself next time you find yourself cross and irritable and out of sorts and ready to weep if anybody looks at you. Probably you are tired cut, nervous, at least, and a quiet rest in bed is what you need.

When you take a day off in bed, however, don't make a gala day of it. Don't nibble away at a box of candies and read exciting books and have all the family in the room all day. Open your windows, soften the light by pulling down the shades part way, place a bottle of water and a rather dull book by your bedside, and then lie down all alone. Spend the whole day alone. Eat as little as you comfortably can eat. Read as little as possible.

Just rest. Rest and rest all day long. You may be nervous and restless at first, but by the fourth or fifth hour you will probably be well relaxed and you will not find the remainder of the day tedious at all. Try this method of resting, sometimes, and see how it works out.

The earliest mention of this favorite English game was in 1598, in an affidavit made by John Derrick of Guildhall. ### SYNOPSIS

The coming of Caroline Dale as a waitress in the station lunch room at Crater City has created a sensation throughout the town. For one thing, it caused Bob Wilson, engineer, to be ten minutes late in taking out his train, to the dismay of Morran, the yardmaster. At their single meeting—at breakfast, Caroline also developed a strong interest in him, and she was surprised to learn later that he had been a tramp.

CHAPTER V—Continued

Bobby then would amuse himself in his quaintly precocious way until "Daddy Jim" got up. Living with the two men had made Bobby self-reliant and old-fashioned, for despite their zeal they could not supply in his impressionable boyhood life the softening influence of a gentle young mother's care; consequently, he was a swaggering, youthful copy of his "two" fathers, reflecting the essential manliness of the one and the intense idealism of the other. Jim's whole interest during his hours at home centered upon the fair-haired, sturdy little chap who was a vital monument of rosy flesh and warm blood to the sweetheart and mother whose picture was enshrined fondly in the foremost place on the parlor mantle.

Jim's out-trips on the Limited left Crater City in the early evening, and if Bob was not home then, so the routine went, Jim on his way to work left Bobby at Mrs. O'Leary's "to be called for."

In accordance with their accustomed habits, Jim and Bobby marched into Mrs. O'Leary's back yard this day and found the estimable Widow in one of her few respites of seated ease, waiting for the when she saw the stranger Jim was bringing toward her.

"Mr. Bramley sent me here," said Caroline after introducing herself in a shyly smiling manner that found a warm reflection in Mrs. O'Leary's broad face and shrewdly practised eyes. "He thought you could give me room and board. I stayed last night at the Commercial Hotel because—"

"You poor child in that place! Of course, I can accommodate you, Miss— and gladly—Sa-a-a-y, look here, Jimmy boy, you'll have no eyes left for the sorting of your mail, and be late in the bargain, if you stand there staring so. Go on with you, now—"

Startled as a small boy caught stealing doughnuts, Jim blushed and stammered, the more so because Caroline bent a friendly, grateful glance upon him. "I'll relieve you of my suitcase," she nodded, "and thank you very much."

Jim surrendered it to Mrs. O'Leary, who with motherly domination refused to let Caroline touch it. Still Jim lingered, until Mrs. O'Leary at last read the plea in his eyes aright—and introduced him to Caroline. No one, meanwhile, had been paying any attention to Bobby. The effects of this non-surveillance of natural rascality was made apparent with startling abruptness at this moment when a wild and gleeful whoop and a jerk that knocked Jim and Caroline together announced the successful consummation of a stunt which he had been slyly preparing for some minutes; he had cast the big loop of his cowboy play-lasso over his Dad and the strange girl, and was now backing away on his heels at the end of the tightened rope, chortling like a mischievous terrier.

When Jim took hold of Caroline's arms to steady her as she toppled against him, he felt a dazzling sense of unreality, as though he were touching the shadowy and uncanny substance of a beautiful dream. He regretted Mrs. O'Leary's efficiency in rescuing them from their tight and awkward predicament. The irate widow shook a threatening rope's end at Bobby, who merely scuttled out of reach and yelled:

"Why are you looking at that lady so funny, Daddy?"

Thereby winning for himself the fun of a grim chase by Mrs. O'Leary!—while Jim departed in fed-faced haste, and Caroline remained alone on the field, smiling faintly. Mrs. O'Leary returned in a moment, unsuccessful and out of breath—but laughing.

"The devil in that little one comes from the inelegant example of his 'Daddy Bob,' I'm thinking. 'What can you expect from a baby that was taught to stand on his head and given sling shots to play with before he was two years old?'"

"Oh," said Caroline in sudden light, "then that was the Jim Fowler with whom Engineer Wilson lives?"

"The same," said the Widow, "and they're thicker'n a pair of moths in a muff. In all me born days I never seen men cotton to each other so—I guess the person ain't living who could come between them two. Why, do you be knowing Bob Wilson already, Miss?" in some surprise.

"He—!" Caroline was visibly embarrassed. "He was pointed out to me this morning, ma'am." After a shy sidelong glance at Mrs. O'Leary during their walk toward the porch, while Bobby played horse with the Widow's apronstrings, Caroline added: "He seemed—very nice!"

"He—they're both—" but Mrs. O'Leary, holding the door open for Caroline to enter, suddenly became speechless in a deep fit of thoughtfulness. She found herself involuntarily contrasting the light in Jim's eyes when he was introduced to Caroline, to the light in Bob Wilson's eyes when she mentioned Bob Wilson. She found herself reconsidering whether or not her statement of a moment before, that "nobody" could ever come between Jim and Bob, had not been just a trifle too sweeping. For now the Widow was pricked by keenly instinctive speculations as to what might happen when an Eve came into an Eveless Garden.

Therefore, the Widow was thoughtful.

Principals In Unique Film

Anna Q. Nilsson, Ian Keith and Lewis Stone in "The Talker"

"Ponjola" Gives Tale of Fights In Gold Fields

"Ponjola," Sam E. Pork's First National picture of Cynthia Stockley's masterpiece of South African life, will be the feature today at the Richmond theatre.

A vivid photoplay drama of a story which ran serially in the Cosmopolitan magazine and later was for months one of the "six best sellers," "Ponjola" is a stirring story of action and romance staged in the Phodesian, gold fields. While its title is taken from the native name for liquor, the play is in no way a preachment against intoxicants, but it tells a story nevertheless, in which "Ponjola," the soul destroying drink of that country, plays a prominent part.

The play centers about an English noblewoman, an innocent victim of scandal who goes into the gold fields to lose her identity. She masquerades as a man, and as such lives for months with the hardened characters of the veldt, fighting the curse of ponjola and fighting for the redemption of the man, who had previously saved her from self-destruction.

Other features on the same program include "Luck of the Foolish," a Harry Langdon comedy; "Prizma," the screen Magazine.

Shirley Mason Given Praise In Movie Critique

Have you ever noticed that a person's intelligence may be in inverse ratio to his or her size?

Consider the case of Shirley Mason who plays the part of the wide-eyed and credulous younger sister, Ruth, in First National's new offering, "The Talker," as the California theatre today.

Although Miss Mason is condemned, by the "pottiness" of her person, to this type of girlish roles, they are far from being representative of her own personality, for "little Shirley," as she is affectionately designated by her friends and studio acquaintances, is not only well and widely read, a student of national and world affairs as well as those pertaining to her own profession, but she has the brains and experience to draw her own conclusions from what she hears and sees.

"The Talker" is the first First National picture in which Miss Mason appears, as she has been under a long-term starring contract in another organization.

Other features on the same program include "The Wild Goose Chase," a Monty Banks comedy; "Movie Morsels," a Hodge Podge; "Cross Word Puzzle"; Larry Canelo at the organ.

Notes From Byron

BYRON, Aug. 19.—E. C. Hannum, local banker and son James, and J. L. Perich visited the Ospital country south of Tracy Sunday in quest of deer.

John A. Miller, deputy internal revenue collector of Richmond, brought a fine four-pointer buck secured in the Livermore hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Parker (formerly Erma Wightman) were tendered a reception at Odd Fellows hall in Byron by Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wightman and friends. Dancing and a banquet were the features of the evening.

Miss Kathryn Jacoby of Berkeley, attended the Parker reception and dance at Odd Fellows hall. She entered the University of California this week, as did also Miss Wilma Dainty of Brentwood, Mrs. R. F. Jacoby has leased an apartment in Berkeley and will keep house for her daughter and Miss Dainty.

J. H. Thomas, former sales manager of the Standard Oil company in Byron, and later in charge at Walnut Grove, has resigned to go into business in Oakland. Thomas has been studying law for several years and recently passed the bar examination.

Tom Pochetti, formerly of Byron, was married last week in Santa Cruz to Miss Judith Scolari, daughter of a pioneer of the Lodi district. Charles E. Dunscomb, publisher of the Berkeley Gazette, and Mrs. Dunscomb were week-end guests at Byron Hot Springs. The latter will remain for a week.

Robert Shaw, son of J. H. Shaw of Oakley, left this week to enter the Santa Clara university, where he is a senior.

Pinole Notes

PINOLE, Aug. 19.—Pinole boosters of the coming carnival here have decorated their autos with banners which may be obtained from all Pinole merchants.

Mrs. Mary Lewis, Mrs. Annie Okerlund and Mrs. Annie McQuillan departed Monday morning for San Luis Obispo as delegates to the grand council of Pochontas, which is convening in that city.

Damones Temple, Pythian Sisters of Pinole, will give a whist party on Friday night, in Pinole Opera House.

Residents of Pinole are invited to an all-night dance at Rodeo on Saturday night, September 12, given for the benefit of Rodeo volunteer fire department.

Mrs. E. Shea and Miss Nellie Finnigan have returned from Yosemite Valley, where they attended

STROM NAMES BIG CUTS IN AUTO PRICES

Prices down!
So says J. P. Strom, referring to Hudson and Essex motor cars, his stock in trade, along with Auburn models.

OUR PROUD REPUTATION

That the Purity Creamery of Richmond is one of the best conducted and most sanitary plants in the state was the opinion of speakers who sponsored the new milk ordinance before the city council at its meeting this week.

Dr. Blake and others spoke in high terms about the local creamery which is said to have passed all state inspections with high scores under the pure food act. It has always merited the very best reports, it was said.

WHICH DO YOU TRUST—OMENS OR FACTS?

If a bird flew in at your window today you'd probably ridicule any suggestion that it would bring disaster to your family. These old superstitions are passing. So is the anti-western superstition as regards motor oils.

An Exclusive Process Behind Zerolene Quality
Western naphthenic base crudes not only make as good an oil as any "eastern," but in the opinion of many lubrication engineers competent to judge—Zerolene refining processes make an oil that's much superior. Lubricating qualities have never been more carefully or successfully preserved than by the processes instituted at Standard Oil Company refineries for the refining of Zerolene.

—the Zerolene high-vacuum process, developed and patented by this company, which preserves the "oiliness" and superior lubricating qualities of the carefully selected crude;

—the Zerolene filtering process, in which all Zerolene is filtered through 40 tons of Florida Fuller's Earth—filtering that makes Zerolene purer and safer for the fine mechanisms of expensive motors than nine out of ten so-called eastern oils;

—the 15 positive checks at the refinery which make the control of Zerolene quality absolute!

Zerolene Better in Actual Practice

But Zerolene is not just a better oil in the laboratory—it is a better oil because it lubricates better. That's why Zerolene is successfully lubricating more cars in the Pacific Coast States than any other oil made.

Zerolene will increase the gasoline mileage of your car, reduce the carbon-removal operations and maintenance costs and lengthen the life of the engine.

Why pay tribute to a superstition? Insist on Zerolene. Always ask for ZEROLENE by name.

Get the Facts!

A series of independent and impartial reports showing the experience of large users with Zerolene motor oil has been collected in our booklet, "Why Pay Tribute to a Superstition?" Ask any Standard Oil Company representative or Zerolene dealer for a copy.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less

GRAZED BEGGAR TRAMPLES GIRL TO HER DEATH

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—An aimless beggar, crazed by consequences, hurried himself to the Philadelphia police today as the murderer of Florence Kane, sister of a Brooklyn detective, who was found murdered on May 29, in a vacant lot near her home.

Thomas McAvoy, 47, said he killed the girl to satisfy a grudge against her brother. Unable to grapple with the girl, he threw her as she was crossing the lot near her home, danced on her body and kicked her to death.

In his confession, McAvoy said, "Detective Kane beat me up when he caught me panhandling. I knew his sister by sight and followed her for a week before I got my chance. Then I caught her crossing a lot and gave her what her brother gave me. I've been roaming in Pennsylvania and New Jersey ever since and I am glad to get it off my mind."

Soft Mud Depth Too Great To Make Good Damsite

ously to threaten the rich agricultural lands of this state and possibly of the United States.

Such a dam is further desired by transportation companies, such as the Southern Pacific Company, who could utilize it as a natural bridge across the bay for the operation of a transbay railroad line. Either Army Point or Dillon Point sites would suit the railroad company as a bay crossing. The San Pablo Point crossing would be useless for the railroad company, excepting for the north shore traffic.

WATER SUPPLY WANTED

A third group interested in converting the upper bay depression into a fresh water lake, if it could be done, are certain irrigationists, some of whom fear the loss of their water rights in the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers, and others who would like to have a water supply for lands not now irrigated.

It is these three groups, mainly, who were instrumental in having the present dam survey made. The finances for the survey were supplied partly by federal appropriation and partly by subscriptions, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce giving upwards of $10,000 towards the undertaking.

The test borings at each of the sites have been, on the whole, rather discouraging to the proponents of the dam project.

ARMY POINT FAVORABLE

At Army point, where the foundation conditions for a dam were perhaps, the most favorable, the distance to hard shale and sandstone was 182.8 feet. Above this shale lies a covering of mud, sand and sand gravel that would have to be removed before a dam structure could be placed there.

At Point San Pablo the last hole drilled by the exploration party in the deepest part of the channel sank through loose material such as mud and sand, for 250 feet before harder ground was encountered. The cost of sinking one hole was nearly $2000, and all prospects of finding a safe anchorage for a dam seems rather remote. The cost of a structure with a foundation so deep would be prohibitive, even if one could be built that would withstand the water pressure for the rushing tides or the weight of the impounded lake.

The width of the dam at Point San Pablo would be 7500 feet, that at the two other points something over 3000 and 3500 feet.

SHIPPING EXTENSIVE

The shipping interests of course, are not favorable to any dam structure, and up-bay and up-river shipping is very extensive. This transportation business now runs into millions each year, for most of the farm produce of the Sacramento Valley, the delta region and much of the San Joaquin Valley is brought down by bay and river steamers.

To meet the requirements of shipping it is proposed to place gates in the dam, which would permit ships to pass at will. The dam proponents declare the shipping would not be hurt, but shipping men are rather jealous of their ancient rights, to go up and down these open waterways as they please, and they have not become entirely reconciled to the dam proposal. There are also complications that arise from the flood problem of the delta and up-valley region, and from irrigationists in the delta, which have not been worked out.
